A Lie All Round.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Washington [illegible] says [illegible] letter from [illegible] Father A. C. Hessing [illegible] Mexican [illegible] Aug. 24, the day after he was reported to have been killed. The letter says the writer is in excellent health and spirits, and that Robie, who had gone to Hermosilla to get money and supplies, had arrived all right. The [illegible], who was subsequently reported killed instead of Hessing, arrived on the same day from the same place, sent a letter to Mr. A. C. Hessing in this city, showing that he not only was not killed but that no accident had happened to him, and that the story was made of whole cloth so far as any person's name was concerned.

Oklahoma Payne's Indignation.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 12.—Capt. Payne writes the Times taking vigorously his exceptions to a dispatch sent to the Globe-Democrat by a Washington correspondent which embodies the views of Commissioner Price. In the dispatch Price refers to Payne as under arrest and in confinement in default of bail. Payne says he is not now and never has been in prison and that no bail was demanded. He is prepared to give bonds to any amount. He says he is ready for trial and furthermore demanded it and an opportunity of placing his claims before a court. He closes with defiance of the government as to the rights in his case and accuses officials of purposely delaying it.

Congressional Nominations.

POTTSVILLE, Sept 12.—Charles N. Brumm was renominated to congress by the 13th district republicans to-day.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Several failures occurred at Produce Exchange on account of decline in breadstuffs and provisions.

FIRES.

Mails Destroyed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—At half-past 9 this morning fire was discovered in the mail room of the steamship Alaska, where three hundred sacks of mail matter from Australia which arrived here from San Francisco Monday had been deposited on the afternoon of that day. Two sacks of newspapers and two of letters had been partly destroyed before the fire was discovered. As a gold watch and two or three sovereigns were found among the ashes, it is believed that a portion of the registered mail was consumed. As the mail room is in the center of the vessel and is lined with iron, and was moreover properly secured, it is believed the fire was caused by some combustible matter enclosed in one of the sacks. As the mail sacks from Australia for Great Britain are not opened in transit through the United States the presence of the dangerous article cannot be detected here. Most of the injured mail matter was made up at Sydney, New South Wales. The purser of the Alaska informed the officers of the New York postoffice that a full report of facts will be made to the British postal authorities on arrival at Queenstown.

At Denver.

DENVER, Sept. 12.—The Crescent mills and elevator burned this morning. Estimated loss, $22,000; fully insured. The fire originated from a spark from a brick kiln across the street, which burned.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

Race Troubles.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12.—Much trouble prevails here on account of the action of the school board in refusing colored scholars permission to enter white schools. They have built a school house for colored scholars, but the latter object to the location and refuse to go, applying to the regular school where admittance is refused. Several street fights have resulted, and schools have been twice closed, white children being afraid to go. Excitement is growing.

[illegible] ended their Troubles.

LARAMIE CITY, Sept. 12.—Kitty Stewart, the Cherokee bride of Bronco Sam, died this morning and Sam will not live more than a few hours. Bronco Sam is a well known colored rancher and a bronco tamer who last spring married a squaw. He became jealous, and yesterday evening shot her, after which he shot himself.

Acting Secretary of State Davis says no instructions have been given Stephen Meany (arrested in Ireland) as to his action in surrendering his bail bonds; also that any action of this kind Meany may have taken is entirely on his own responsibility.

News from Siberia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Lieutenant Harbar writes from Yakutsk, June 23: "I hope to reach a hut called Matvai Mesl, near the center of Lena delta, about July 3. Here I will establish a provision depot, and at once commence search for the people who were in Lieutenant Chipp's cutter. I propose now to make our first search to the westward of the depot, which will probably occupy the greatest part of July and August I will make search to the eastward as far as Kaena river, if necessary."

HOW EASTERN MANUFACTURERS ARE SOMETIMES CORNERED.

The Royal Baking Powder Company have pursued our local manufacturers most unrelentingly for a long time. That they have gone too far is inferred from the questions put to them by a weekly newspaper of the 2d inst., which are given below:

Gentlemen, have you answered the challenge that has appeared in all the newspapers?

If not, are we to understand that, as implied in that challenge, you do use ammonia and starch in your "absolutely pure" baking powder?

By the way, what—according to your private system of defining words—is the meaning of the phrase "absolutely pure," and wherein is your system superior to that of Webster's dictionary?

If your powder is composed of—

Absolutely pure ammonia,
Absolutely pure cream of tartar,
Absolutely pure starch,
Absolutely pure soda,

Is it an absolutely pure powder?

Suppose you should be pleased to add some absolutely pure alum, or some absolutely pure sand, would it still be an absolutely pure powder?

The illustrious "Prof. Schedler," whose ingenious mind conceived and brought forth the elaborate kindergarten diagram that you publish—who has he the honor to be?

Be kind enough to give us that great and good man's pedigree, with some account of his other noted achievements in science. Nobody appears to have the honor of his acquaintance.

You call yours a "cream-tartar" baking powder. Others, which have alum in them, you call "alum powders." Why, then, is not yours an "ammonia powder," if it has ammonia in it?

You accuse others of adulterating their goods with alum, which we are very sorry to say many of them do. At the same time, do you not put ammonia in your own? Is [illegible], then, a tolerably close personal application [illegible] the homely old couplet—

The faults of our neighbors with freedom we blame,
But tax not ourselves, though we practice the same?

Can you not understand that a baking powder can be made here as cheaply as at the East; that all the materials are quite as good and as cheap as with you, and that the [illegible] freight is saved?

[illegible] all [illegible] you like in our newspapers [illegible] they show the country [illegible] with your pleasing circulars, diagrams and cook books [illegible]. You may regale [illegible] You may make [illegible] of your advertising wagons and [illegible] it shall [illegible] happen that the people will find you out and turn to the manufacturers here of baking powders that are pure in the true sense—pure cream of tartar and bicarbonate of soda. Ammonia may be good enough for those who like it. Californians do not.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12.—It is understood Lord Dufferin is at a deadlock with the proclamation against Arabi Pasha and with the military convention, after having obtained the [illegible] of [illegible] documents. Lord Dufferin has informed the other ambassadors of [illegible] of the case and the following has been ascertained to be a correct version of the negotiations. All articles of the convention had been accepted by the Porte, including that designating Aboukir as the landing place of Turkish troops, and Lord Dufferin had initiated the final text. After considerable delay on the part of Turkey, Said Pasha declared he was unable to initiate the same and requested postponement. Lord Dufferin demurred, but eventually agreed on condition that the document be forwarded in his initiated and unaltered form on the following morning. Late the following evening Said Pasha visited Lord Dufferin and informed him he was unable to affix his initials to the document, as the porte decided troops should land at Alexandria, Aboukir being unsafe. The next day Lord Dufferin, on consideration of the English and Turkish troops being on the same footing as during the Crimean war, was authorized to inform Said Pasha that Turkey would then be allowed to proceed to Port Said and thence enter the canal. On the same day Lord Dufferin requested the attendance of Said Pasha for the purpose of signing the convention. At his arrival Lord Dufferin observed it was necessary that the proclamation be officially communicated to him on that morning. He was informed it had been published in that morning's Vakit, and a complete French translation was produced and read to him, but he was surprised to find it was a different document from the one he had agreed to, certain phrases which said Pasha had promised to eliminate being retained. Lord Dufferin thereupon said he was anxious that the text of the new document be transmitted to London. He was ready to initiate the draft in the convention with a clause allowing Turkish troops to proceed to Port Said. He was informed the sultan desired the words "disembark at Port Said," to be substituted for the words "proceed to Port Said."

Diplomatic Business.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12.—A grand council has been summoned to deliberate upon the relations of Turkey with England. After the issue of the proclamation against Arabi Pasha, the sultan, as a mark of approval, has increased Said Pasha's salary £50 monthly.

Lord Dufferin has complained of the fresh arrest of laborers engaged in the service of the English army in Egypt.

Greece has proposed that the Turkish and Greek commanders on the Greek frontiers sign a protocol arranging an armistice, but the porte declined the proposal, pointing out that an armistice was unnecessary, as there is no war between the countries.

Still Delaying Work.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12.—The grand council summoned yesterday to discuss the relations between Turkey and England, has decided the military convention must clearly indicate the landing place of Turkish troops in Egypt.

Egypt's Loss.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 12.—Prominent financial estimates say Egypt will lose nearly £70,000,000 by the war. The cotton crop, which is entirely lost, would have been worth nearly £40,000,000. There is little hope of saving any of the sugar crop if the country is not within a settled condition within two months. It will be too late for saving next year's cereals, and several large failures are anticipated shortly.

Ready to Advance.

KASSASSIN, Sept. 11—Noon.—The bulk of the English forces have arrived, and the camp has the appearance of a tented city three miles long by a half broad. The army is ready to move and will probably advance Wednesday morning. There is no doubt whatever had we advanced Saturday we could have captured the enemy's position with great ease. Gen. Butler, who accompanied the cavalry, was actually in consultation with Gen. Drury Lowe upon the expediency of the cavalry pushing forward to Zagazig, when Gen. Wolseley's orders arrived for the force to return to Kassassin.

The impatience of the army to be led forward is so obvious and the skill of Gen Wolseley so often proved, it is certain some sufficient military reason must exist to account for the delay in making an advance.

An Onward Move.

KASSASSIN, Sept. 12—5:30 P. M.—General orders are issued for a forward movement of the whole army, tents and baggage to be transported by railroad to the point nearest to the British encampment. No bugles are to be sounded after sunset. The royal West Kent regiment, the 19th hussars and two companies of engineers remained to guard the camp.

A Battle Expected.

KASSASSIN, Sept. 12.—Gen. Wolseley by personal reconnoissance to-day got a clear idea of the enemy's position, and a battle is now expected.

Before the Battle.

KASSASSIN, Sept. 12—10 P. M.—The British army is now bivouacing at a point two miles beyond here, along the line facing Arabi Pasha's force. Our most advanced line is about four miles from the Egyptian's front. A forward march will begin shortly after midnight, so our force may reach fighting distance at early dawn. Gen. Wolseley will attempt to get around Arabi and destroy the railway in his rear and his communication with Zagazig.

Nine batteries accompany the advancing force, and Arabi Pasha will be a clever general if he escapes capture with his whole army.

ISMAILIA, Sept. 12.—The hospital is ordered evacuated except by serious cases.

Prisoners taken in last Sunday's engagement state that Bedouins have left the rebel camp in disgust.

KASSASSIN, Sept. 12, 4 P. M.—British tents will be struck at 6:15 P. M. and men be formed into brigades and marched to the ground of bivouac. Each man will carry one hundred rounds of ammunition. General Nugent will remain in force in charge of the camp. A transport brigade will be formed at day break and a supply of ammunition equal to 30 rounds per man be carried on baggage animals, which will press on at night. A naval brigade will be attached to the transport corps with 40 pounders.

The British line of communication between Ismailia and Nefich, Tel el Mahuta, and Massameh is held by detachments of infantry with one gun and a group of cavalry at each place.

2 A. M. [Sept. 13]—The British are now marching on Tel-el Kebir. The attack will probably begin at daylight. The British troops have three days' rations. Transports have been ordered to follow the army along the north bank of the canal.

Quietness at Cairo.

CAIRO, Sept. 6.—Everything is quiet here. The statue of Ibrahim Pasha, grandfather of the khedive has been destroyed in accordance with a resolution adopted at a meeting of Ulemas, declaring the erection of statues contrary to religion.

At the Front.

KASSASSIN, Sept. 11.—The British loss in Saturday's engagement was four killed and sixty wounded.

The Indian contingent to-day advanced a mile to the front.

The Highland brigade has arrived from Ismailia.

Movements of Troops.

PORT SAID, Sept. 11.—Four transports with troops have arrived.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 11.—The transport Serapis sailed to-day for Alexandria with 1722 officers and men of the 1st battalion of Buffs and 1st battalion of the Dorsetshire regiment.

War Notes.

KASSASSIN, Sept. 12.—The Indian cavalry horses are suffering from glanders.

Owing to the fall of the fresh water canal launches are unable to proceed.

Gen. Wolseley has left camp in order to arrange for an attack. All forces have now arrived.

ISMAILIA, Sept. 12.—Boats have gone up the fresh water canal through Kassassin lock to blow up dams constructed by the enemy.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 12.—It is denied from Cairo that Nubar Pasha's house and other buildings are burned.

Shrapnel Versus Krupp Shells.

KASSASSIN, Sept. 12.—The campaign has demonstrated the vast superiority of shrapnel over Krupp percussion shells. The English fired without haste, as the consumption of ammunition by rifles averaged eight rounds per man. British soldiers showed great kindness to the wounded Egyptians, and many gave away their water bottles, which, under such a sun, were a prime necessity for their own use. The prisoners all expected instant death.

Our Representative.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 12.—Lieut. Com. Casper F. Goodrich, the American officer detailed to accompany the English army in the Egyptian campaign has arrived and will report to Sir Garnet Wolseley at the first opportunity.

Pipes and "Baccy" for the Boys.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 12.—The Rothschilds have presented the British in Egypt with 12 tons of tobacco and 6000 pipes, which the khedive allowed to enter duty free.

A Fraudulent Surrender.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 11.—The sincerity of the four officers who claim to have deserted from Arabi Pasha is doubted and their surrender is [illegible] to be a ruse.

Profits of the Canal.

PORT SAID, Sept. 11.—One hundred English men-of-war transports have used the Suez canal between Aug. 20 and Sept. 6. The canal company has realized from tonnage and passenger dues [illegible].

Ordered Released.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12.—The porte has ordered release of laborers in the service of the English army in Egypt.

Denied.

[illegible], Sept. 11.—It is denied that Arabi [illegible] have gone home to Egypt.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Yesterday afternoon a republican ward club presidents representing 13 of the 19 clubs in the city, met and adopted resolutions asking the county committee for an open primary.

E. J. Harrison, secretary of the anti-monopoly party of California, has issued a circular enclosing the names of the republican and democratic nominees for state officers, and asking recipients to scratch the most desirable names, leaving the others as an indication of their choice of candidates and return the list on or before the 20th of September, addressed to the executive committee of the anti-monopoly party. Special scrutiny is requested in reporting on candidates for railroad commissioners and board of equalization. Blank space is left to substitute an independent candidate where neither of the regular nominees is acceptable. About 1800 of these circulars have been addressed to the most prominent mercantile firms of the state with a view of selecting a ticket to represent the anti-monopoly party in the coming election, endorsed by merchants, irrespective of party.

H. B. M. steamer Comus, which will convey the Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise from this city to Victoria arrived here yesterday, and is anchored off Broadway street wharf. On arriving, a salute of 21 guns was fired in honor of the American flag.

At St. Luke church last evening, Bishop Paddock of Washington territory, gave a short review of the work of his diocese. He stated that the country is one of the richest of the coast, and was rapidly increasing in population. The greater portion of the religious work is necessarily missionary. There are three parishes that support their own ministers, and these pastors, besides their own parish work, preach in other places at different times. In connection with the church a memorial hospital has recently been opened at a cost of $5000.

This afternoon, David Vanslau, 6 years of age, was run over by a train near the corner of Harrison and Third streets, and was killed.

In the habeas corpus case of Chin Chang, a sailor on the steamer Australia, Judge Hoffman to-day decided that as petitioner shipped at this port before the law went into effect and returned here direct, he should be allowed to land. This will allow Chinese sailors on the Australia to come ashore.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12—In speaking of the speed of the steamers "State" and "Queen," the Alta says this morning: The steamer State of California sails this morning for Portland, and the Queen of the Pacific will be the next one sailing, next Saturday, the 16th inst. We will hold our breath, and see if she will change the State of California's figures of 35 hours and 40 minutes, and if she will beat her yearly average. She has the power and should do so, and we will wait events.

THE STAR ROUTERS.

Foreman Dickson Makes his Statement Concerning the Attempt at Bribery—Several Notes.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—In the star route position to-day in course of argument upon the motion for renewal of bonds in cases of defendants, wherein they failed to agree, Merrick said, "My motion is doubtless to increase the amount and require new recognizance."

Ingersoll—"It seems that this motion is made simply for the purpose of annoyance. The bond they had given is certainly good, legally speaking. The only reason for an additional bond is the jury has failed to convict defendants and the prosecution pretend that is good evidence they are guilty."

School-boy bickering ensued between Merrick and Ingersoll until stopped by the court's "Peace, gentlemen, peace."

Court then said he was of opinion the recognizance already entered into so far as the parties against whom there was no verdict rendered are concerned are subsisting and valid recognizances. As to the two parties found guilty, Rerdell and Miner, I am of opinion there is an end to their recognizance.

Henkle—"Will court accept a new bond for them pending hearing of the motion for a new trial?"

Court stated he would hear Henkle on that subject Wednesday, and he would on the same day hear arguments upon Merrick's motion to require a new bond.

Foreman Dickson said he was requested to return the thanks and gratitude of the jury to the court for the kind consideration with which they had been treated. They were grateful for their courteous treatment on all sides, and many of them though performing compulsory duty since early in March, with an array of witnesses before them and almost talked to death, would leave the court room with pleasant recollections of their unpleasant duty.

Judge Wylie said, "The court parts with all of you with sentiments of entire friendliness. I had hoped we should be enabled to decide this case, but you have not reached any conclusion I can regard as a conclusion of the case at all, but I do not desire to cast any imputation upon the motives of any one. You have not seen the law probably as the court has seen it, but you have exceeded your power under the law of deciding on matters submitted to you. You have decided facts no doubt conscientiously and it is not for you to express any dissatisfaction, and I take pleasure in saying to all members of this jury, that with the entire feeling of respect, the court begs to express its gratitude for the patient and exemplary conduct which they have exhibited on this trial from the beginning to the close. Parting with you therefore on these terms of friendliness and respect, I have no suspicion, nor does the court entertain a doubt in regard to this verdict, as not representing the conscious conviction of the jury. It is not such a verdict as I should be glad to see, but it is your verdict; it is your work. You are responsible for it. The court is not."

Foreman Dickson—As to another subject. At the close of the proceedings last Thursday, your honor made severe strictures upon attempts made to bribe certain members of the jury. I stated then that upon disposition of this case, I would present such facts as I have to present. Will I present them in a sworn statement to you?

The Court—No, no, sir; not at all. Your experience may be different from other members of the jury. No doubt it is. That is a matter which will probably be investigated in another way. It does not belong to your verdict.

Foreman Dickson—No relation whatever?

Court—No. If it be true, as has been reported to me by several members of this jury, that efforts to bribe have been made, I think no more censurable depth of crime can be named. I think this is not the place for court or jury to talk on that subject. It is a matter which ought to be in the hands of an officer of law, and if any scoundrel be convicted of such an attempt, I don't know whether the jury would convict him or not. We shall endeavor to do our duty as a court. Good-by, gentlemen.

Ingersoll—We have no objections to the jury's stating who approached them.

Merrick—Nor have we, and government will examine the whole matter.

Wilson—And counsel for defense will have a hand in the examination. Government will not make the examination by itself.

Merrick—Pardon me, sir; but government will, and put it where it belongs.

Court (smiling)—I never was so happy in my life. Here are both sides anxious to expose a crime, and we shall certainly have conviction next time. Adjourned.

Government Charged with Bribery.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Foreman Dickson has made a general statement regarding the alleged attempts at bribery; but would give no formal statement for publication. He said he would to-morrow lay before the district attorney or his assistant such facts as were within his knowledge. On the 23d of August he had been approached with an offer of $2500 by an officer connected with the department of justice, who produced letters of appointment as a special agent of that department, and stated he was authorized to act in the matter if he would vote for the conviction of Brady and Stephen W. Dorsey, and that statement would be corroborated with witnesses and by circumstantial evidence when he made the order.

Foreman Dickson's Statement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Foreman Dickson says this Bowen, agent of government, said he wanted me to meet the attorney-general, and said he had been telegraphed for and he was expected in Washington the next day, (Thursday, August 24), and that we could meet at Wormley's hotel undisturbed, and he would satisfy me that what he promised was correct. He further said: "Well, you are a man of the world, and know when you are in a fight you must use every means in your power to win. This is the attorney-general's fight, and he must succeed. This is political life or death with him. He does not regard Judge Wylie friendly to prosecution by his contrary rulings." He also said the case came to Brewster as a legacy from his predecessor, MacVeagh, and that it had been terribly mismanaged by MacVeagh and James. The mistakes made and errors of counsel had jeopardized it, and the present administration did not care to press the case until Brady's papers commenced their tirade of abuse and vilification of the administration and its officers, and now under all circumstances defendants must be convicted. I asked him if any of counsel for prosecution knew of his action. He said they did not. Before leaving him, he said, "I will send word to your address to-morrow and arrange when we will meet and see the attorney-general." The following day after adjournment of court I proceeded to my office, and shortly after a colored boy handed me a card with the following written in lead pencil:

"Dear Col. Dickson—Eight o'clock this evening at Drivers." BOWEN.

Friday, Aug. 25th, I called upon Judge Wylie at recess and informed him that an improper proposition had been made to me, and by whom. We conversed about the matter and he said he would think over it and resolve upon what cause to pursue. After adjournment that day he called me and said he was afraid those damnable attempts to 'pollute the jury' might have been made upon some other jurymen and advised me to be cautious and converse with them privately, and that for the present he would not take action. I asked if I would encourage Bowen and let the proposition culminate into an actual deposit of a corruption fund and then expose him. He checked me by saying, "No; that has too much the flavor of police business." I said I would report to him any further facts I might glean from day to day. Some days after, I had a conversation with him and told him other jurymen had been approached, and he said he would attend to the matter in time. I attempted to tell him facts in the Bowen interview, but he prevented me, saying he did not care to know the facts in detail or know what side of the case he represented. It was apparent a person acting for the defense might approach jurymen with a corrupt offer, representing themselves to be in the interest of the prosecution, and also with a view of testing or entrapping jurymen. He again advised the strictest surveillance and caution.

Doniphan reported to me that a man named Shaw offered him $250 to vote to clear Dorsey. I advised him to report the matter to the judge and he did so. Until we took the first informal ballot on the afternoon of Friday, Sept. 8th, I did not know how the jury would vote or did in the slightest degree endeavor to control their actions. I refer to my colleagues to substantiate the statement. I could not discover any positive criminal evidence against Dorsey that was supported by undisputed facts. I explained my position to my colleagues fully and fairly, and whenever we discussed the charges in the indictment or any of the overt acts, I supported my position by facts sworn to by government witnesses. As to Brady the testimony of Walsh, sustained by collateral evidence, was what prosecution depended upon to convict him.

Dickson's statement is very long. He tells how he read to the jury a description of Bowen's attempt, but urges them not to be influenced in their decision by it, as it was not certain in whose interest it was made. The verdict was as unsatisfactory to him as to any body. It was inconsistent. A conspiracy was proven as to some of the contractors who were organized apparently with a view of obtaining contracts upon unfrequented territory or in growing sections, at low figures, and by misrepresentations of facts and petitions to the department, to secure expedition and increase until the figures reached a large sum. I believed this was systematically done by them through their officers located here and the principal sufferers were sub-contractors, whose losses comparatively with the government were ten times greater. I believe in many instances the department was imposed on by misrepresentations which were probably made when orders were secured. Take any executive officer under the government, I care not who, and I know from my experience it is a physical impossibility, considering the growing wants of the people, to personally inspect, examine and discover the true inwardness of the effect of each order he issues in the manifold duties assigned him, and then the exercise of mistaken judgment should be considered by every liberal mind. If juries are to be composed of men who do not think and act for themselves and who are expected to accept circumstantial evidence as fact and shadows as proof, then the authorities made a mistake when they drew my name from the wheel. In regard to the Bowen matter I have copied the statement I made on the night of August 23, and placed it in the hands of the district attorney for action, and this afternoon I shall write to the attorney general for an immediate investigation and demand, as a citizen's protection of his de[illegible] from vicious, malicious and contemptible attacks of his officer of justice upon jurors who dare to vote their honest conviction. If the brilliant Merrick imagines that he can sustain his views of my course by vituperation and abuse, calumny and innuendo, I am willing to surrender, but [illegible] to see what his course will be when [illegible] proofs are presented against [illegible] will [illegible] to satisfy the [illegible] Till then we will not talk about personal integrity. That he will do me the [illegible] I have [illegible] for twenty years [illegible] and hope I have not fallen so low in the estimation of my fellow citizens, who have honored me, as to be branded a falsifier and be suspected of perjury. I shall patiently await my vindication at the hands of the [illegible] of justice."

[illegible] understood that Bowen's companion, when he approached Dickson, was a man named Brewster Cameron, also a special agent of the department of justice, and this fact will probably be stated in Dickson's formal and sworn statement to the district attorney. It is a long document, but embraces in detail only what has been stated above in a general way.

Star Route Comment.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Papers have long specials and editorials on the star route matter. The general tenor of all seems to be that the termination is absurd, and hope is expressed government will prosecute to the conviction of the remaining criminals. There seems little doubt some specials on bribery or anticipation of reward have done their work. Merrick says Dickson's claim was that a man named Bowen had tried to bribe him for a government verdict. He denies any such man is connected with the government or in any way represented it. Merrick scoffs at the idea. Merrick vouched for Dickson to his associates when the jury was being selected, and he was only taken on Merrick's representation, the other counsel objecting to him. Merrick says Dickson betrayed them and combined to prevent a fair verdict. All counsel are now confident of convicting the Dorseys and Brady. Their task is much easier than before.

Foreman Dickson Indignant.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Foreman Dickson, in an interview, urges Merrick to reform the department of justice of its numerous abuses and scandals instead of attacking his integrity. He denounced as newspaper lies the stories of the jury lunching and dickering with defendants. He tells a long tale of the manner in which spotters and testers pursued the jury, and how some of them were snubbed by jurors.

Sellwood.

A Beautiful Suburban Town on the East Shore of the Willamette.

The Best Opportunity of the Time for a Home.

The streets and avenues of this beautiful site are being rapidly cleared, and lots and blocks are now ready for sale.

Its Advantages to Residents

Are rapid and direct ferry communication with the city, almost level and easily cleared ground, good soil, and the facility for furnishing pure water.

The Steam Ferry

Which the Company guarantees for two years, will, in a pleasant ride of twenty minutes, land you where you can buy a lot for one-tenth the sum asked for one in twenty minutes' walk from the business center of Portland; and in the spring, when the large and swift steamer for which the Company is negotiating is put on, the trip will be reduced to fifteen minutes each way, at the nominal fare of five cents.

Other Means of Access.

No other site near Portland has been improved so lavishly by its proprietors as Sellwood, for the convenience of purchasers and residents. Streets have been opened and cleared, and a plank road from the river to the railroad station at Willsburg is projected, and grading and planking of part of it has been ordered this year, connecting, by a ferry soon to be put on, with Fulton and the macadam road. This road will also cross the East Portland and Oregon City road, so that means of access by railroads, steamer and wagon roads will be unequaled.

Pure Spring Water.

As soon as a sufficient number of lots have been sold to justify it, the best of spring water will be brought through the town, the creek which crosses the eastern length of the site furnishing ample power for the purpose.

The Sellwood Ferry Guaranteed.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Sellwood Real Estate Co., held August 21, 1882, the following resolution was adopted:

"RESOLVED, That the Sellwood Real Estate Company hereby guarantee that they will keep a Ferry in operation between the town of Sellwood and Portland at present prices to residents of Sellwood for a period of two years, except when unavoidable accidents cause temporary suspension." H. L. PITTOCK, President.

F. C. GOODWIN, Sec'y.

EVERDING & FARRELL.

The Daily Oregonian.
WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 13, 1882.

THE COLUMBIA RIVER BAR.

There will arrive by the steamer State of California, due to-morrow night, Colonel C. B. Comstock, Colonel William B. Craighill, Colonel Geo. H. Mendel and Colonel Chas. H. Stewart who, with Captain Chas. F. Powell, of this city, will make an examination of the Columbia river bar with the view of recommending some plan for its permanent improvement. Colonel Comstock was one of the Mississippi river commission, and on his recommendation the first government appropriation for the present jetties was made. Colonel Craighill has charge of the harbor improvement at Baltimore for which $300,000 was appropriated this year. In his speech to the board of trade last night Congressman George explained that the reason the committee on commerce declined to recommend an appropriation for the Columbia river bar was that no plan for its permanent improvement had ever been adopted and recommended by the board of engineers. Notwithstanding this, seven members of the committee favored an appropriation sufficiently large to begin the work, and it failed by only one vote. With a fixed plan of action, Mr. George is reasonably certain of a good appropriation at the next session of congress.

The gentlemen who are now at hand to make the investigation of the bar should be shown all proper attention, and should not leave the state until all the facts, which may have a bearing upon their decision, shall have been fully presented to them. That the bar is an obstruction to commerce may not appear to them, unless they should happen to see it under certain conditions of tide and weather. The vessel which crosses it with ease and safety when the tide is at the proper stage and the weather is favorable, may be terribly tossed and strained, if not wrecked, when these conditions are altered and the billows lash the sands with mighty force, and contrary winds drive headlong over the mighty ocean's vast expanse.

First, then this committee of engineers should be made acquainted with the worst features of the Columbia river bar, because the improvement of it, to be of the greatest advantage to the state, must be such as will overcome every possible obstacle to the easy and secure passage of vessels at all seasons. This view, disconnected with other facts, might discourage a decision favorable to any attempt at the desired improvement, but with the imparting of this knowledge of the extent of the work an idea must also be given of the extent and resources of the country to which the proposed improvement will give free and safe access to the open sea; a country of an extent to afford room for a greater population than is found in all the New England states, with a producing capacity equal to at least one-fourth of the Mississippi valley; a country that for climate is unequalled for agreeableness in any other part of the world under the same lines of latitude; a country abounding in deposits of all the useful and precious metals, studded with forests of the finest timber and containing inexhaustible beds of coal; a country that when enough of it has been brought into cultivation to produce more wheat than is now raised in the great state of Illinois will still have enough pasture lands left to feed flocks and herds to furnish beef and mutton for the entire nation.

With resources so varied and extensive in their character to be developed, in a large measure only when every possible means of transportation shall be perfected, the necessity of the great work to be now inquired into and the plans for which are now to be devised, will fully appear. Upon the undertaking and accomplishment of this work the growth of the great northwest very largely depends. With its completion, a still more rapid growth of our foreign and coastwise trade will set in and the not far off future will see here, where considerably less than half a century ago the country was undisturbed by civilized sounds, a million people and commerce more than is now enjoyed by the whole Pacific coast. An empire will be served and benefited by the improvement, which will add immensely to the aggregate of national wealth, and will in a few years more than return into the federal treasury the cost of the great work.

H. W. S "GONE" RECORD.

A new [illegible] to know what the "infamous record" of J. H. Mitchell is. It is easily recited. First, while a school teacher in Pennsylvania he seduced one of his pupils, Sadie Hoon. This offense against good morals had been condoned by [illegible] marriage, to hide the birth of two or three children following. Second, after his marriage he became enamored of another woman, Miss Brinker. He left Pennsylvania with Miss Brinker, leaving his wife and several of his children so destitute that the former finally [illegible] up in the poor house. Third, at the time of his flight he took some $4000 which did not belong to him. Fourth, to evade the officers of the law he assumed an alias, his true name being John M. Hipple. These facts [illegible] acknowledged to be true, but pleaded the "baby act," and said they were "early indiscretions."

Up to the time of coming to Portland, Mitchell had committed four crimes punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary. While living here under an assumed name he again married without first obtaining a divorce from the first wife. With this wife he lived for many years and became the father of her children before legally marrying her. These facts form an outline of a career whose details cannot be told without outrage to decency. All of these crimes Mitchell confesses, but wishes the people to look over as bygones. And yet in the face of this damning record, and in the face of more recent moral and political misdemeanors shameful to manhood, there are people who look to his support, attracted by the thin molasses of a polite address, or the hope of a share in official spoils. The man is not wanted by the people and their representatives will not elect him to the high place which he asks.

The Jacksonville Times says: "Ex-Senator Mitchell's greatest effort in the senate was against the celebrated Thurman railroad bill, one drawn in the interests of the people and compelling the Pacific railroads to pay 5 per cent. of their earnings into a fund for the redemption of bonds issued for them by the government, and which they studiously refused to pay. This shows Mitchell's status, and is a cogent reason why he should not be returned to the senate, where he appeared to better advantage as a corporation lawyer than as a servant of the people."

To the many humble heroes, who have battled with the waves, must be added the name of Frank Eugene Tracy of Astoria, who risked his life to save, and saved the child of Captain Barron, of the British bark Cordelia.

All republicans of Oregon, except the few who have attached themselves to the discarded boss, will watch with interest the approaching downfall of the Pennsylvania dictator.

The Standard man has evidently felt the correcting lash. In yesterday's issue he gave the democrats some good advice, which we reprint to-day that somebody may see it.

In order to make its alliterative headlines come all right the Cincinnati Commercial calls Arabi the "Everlasting Ethiopian."

There can be but one sentiment throughout the nation with regard to the verdict of the star route jury—deep disgust.

Mitchell will soon be in position to telegraph a message of condolence to Don Cameron.

THE SITUATION UNCHANGED.

[EDITORIAL TELEGRAPHIC CORRESPONDENCE.]

SALEM, Sept. 12—10 P. M.—To-day has been quiet. The Mitchell people have not yet recovered from yesterday's terrible jolt. Their anger of last night degenerated into complaint that the action of the senate was an insult to McConnell. Having voted for him they say it was rank discourtesy to take all power out of his hands. The opposition, however, are cheerful on the theory that they who win may laugh. The historical remark of a former president, Cornelius of Washington county, in 1866, is quoted: "Courtesy be d—d. We've got 'em, and we mean to keep 'em." In the hope of reviving the drooping spirits of their crowd the managers sent for Mitchell, who came up to-day, but his presence failed to raise the spirit of gloom, and the lobby of the Chemeketa to-night presents a scene of commonplace quiet. The situation has in no way changed since last night. If a caucus were held to-night Mitchell would get, I think, 21 votes. His friends claim 24 pledged votes for him, but cannot name the men. This count includes the solid Multnomah delegation, which may be doubted. On the other hand, eighteen men will stay out of caucus, and three others at least will not enter a partial caucus. These figures are so hopeful to the opposition that symptoms of personal exertion on the part of members of the "field" begin to appear. But it is not forgotten that no matter how much bruised, a snake never dies till sundown, and the opponents of the crime-stained seeker will not lessen vigilance. Nobody mentions caucus, and no attempt will be made to hold one for some days at least. I should not be surprised if the attempt were not made at all. The opposition are not in the caucus business, and the Mitchell managers are afraid to move in the matter. I do not think there will be any material change in the situation for two or three days or more.

A private dispatch, received here last night, says that Spokane and Stevens counties will cast their votes in the territorial convention solid for Brents for delegate. His friends now claim his renomination as certain.

This morning's dispatches indicate that we are likely to have, within 24 hours, news from Egypt "as is news."

DEMOCRATIC DUTY.

Portland Standard, Sept. 12.

The legislature which met yesterday has a good working republican majority in both houses. The duty and responsibility of the democratic members is, however, none the less than if the democratic party were in the majority. It becomes every democrat to discharge his duty as honestly and conscientiously as if each individual were responsible for every act of the legislature. The first matter of importance to the democrats is the election of the U. S. senator. It is their plain and only course to go into caucus, select some worthy democrat and cast their votes for him. They have no more to do with the quarrels among republicans as to their choice than they would have were the democrats in the majority. There is a bitter fight among the republicans. It is none of any democrat's troubles.

The republicans, or those who desire to see a republican elected, sent these representatives to Salem and they are expected to elect a republican. Whenever democrats claim, or propose to exercise the right to vote for a republican, they betray the trust which is confided to them by their constituents and they are not worthy to be called democrats. Should any one or two democrats attempt to vote for a republican, the rest would have a perfect right to go in a body and vote for another. The democratic caucus has no right to pledge its members to the support of any other than a democrat, and when these principles of the party are violated, the democratic members are at sea and have no principle to fight for. It is not our purpose to dictate who the democratic members should honor with their votes. We have many good and deserving men in the party, and it will not be difficult to find one fully worthy of the honor. But we would caution democrats against the idea that because they are in the minority they have a right to vote for a republican. They have no such right, and whoever attempts to do so, violates the trust and confidence of his people. The Standard has been charged with favoring the election of Senator Mitchell. This is a false accusation. We are for a strict party organization and no coalition in favor of any Republican. If this, as we have said before, results in the election of Mr. Mitchell, the people have none but the republicans to blame. But if it is right now for a few democrats to dictate the election of the republicans, be it whom it may, two years from now, or whenever the democrats get the legislature again, a few republicans may become the dictators and play precisely the same game. It is a precedent which the democrats cannot afford to inaugurate, and it is not only wrong in a political sense, but dishonest. Every Democrat should go into the democratic caucus and there vote for his choice from among many democratic names, and whoever receives a majority of the votes, let him be supported to the bitter end.

HE IS WONDERFUL!
HE IS STRANGE!
He Tells Your Disease without Asking a Question!

Thousands flock to see this strange man. He has astonished the best talent by his great knowledge of the Inner Man. Don't fail to be examined and find out without guess work what condition your Lungs are in, also the Heart, Liver, Kidneys and every part of the inside. It is worth a fortune to any one for his examinations are really wonderful and give unbounded satisfaction to all.

DR. PERRY PRATT
The great American Herb Phenomenon. Men, women and children, if you are suffering go and see him.

HERBALISM

Is the oldest and grandest system of medical treatment in the world. It is the application of nature's simplest remedies for the removal of disorders set on by artificial life. It came in with Adam, and will go out with the last man. "And the fruit thereof shall be for meat and the leaf thereof for medicine."—Ezekiel 47th chapter 12th verse. When universally practiced in this and other countries there was small loss of life and men lived as a rule their allotted time and even far beyond. Mercury and the Lancet causes more deaths in quiet sick beds than the sword and cannon on the field of battle. Reaction is taking place and common sense is asserting itself in the minds and conduct of the people, and the sooner and accomplished it shall become again the doctor for the nation.

Asthma, Catarrh and Lung troubles cured by Dr. Perry Pratt astonished the best doctors in London and Paris, and yet he uses nothing but simple herbs. There is a disease which produces pains about the body that thousands of people treat for Rheumatism but are never cured. The pains occur about any part of the body, but are most apt to occur in one of the hip joints passing down the sciatic nerve; it is often called Sciatic Rheumatism. This disease affects the heart and the entire nerve system and is wasting and debilitating to the entire body. There is an absolute cure for this disease and those who may suffer in this respect will be informed of the cause of it and of its presence by an examination by Dr. Pratt, who on an examination of the action of the heart will point out the disease without asking a question.

HO KEE PO KEE!

The most nutritious, strengthening and blood cleansing Restorative known, when combined with our Indian Herb Pad, is a sure remedy for Catarrh, Coughs, Influenza, Inflammation of Bowels and Bladder, Dysentery, Bilious Colic, Cholera Morbus, Colds, Fevers, Tape Worm, Chills and Fever, Dyspepsia, Fainting, Loss of Appetite, Palpitation of the Heart, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all diseases of the Blood, Liver and Stomach.

The Indian Herb Pad used in connection with Ho Kee Po Kee Herbs, have created intense excitement by the wonderful cures they have effected, reminding those who have used them of the last days of miracles.

HISTORICAL.

An Introductory Sketch of the Calvary Presbyterian Church and Society, Prepared by Dr. Curtis C. Strong, for the Corner Stone Laid Sept. 12, 1882.

Following is the history read by Mr. Wallace, which was omitted in the account of the exercises of the corner-stone laying published in yesterday's OREGONIAN:

The history of Presbyterianism in this city is as follows: On the 3d of August, 1863, there was organized the First Presbyterian church and society, the first church of the denomination in the city and the third in the Presbytery of Oregon. With a membership of seventeen at that time, it now has upon its roll 337. One of the original seventeen was the first to join this church, viz: Mrs. Eliza Ainsworth, or as we all more affectionately call her "Mother" Ainsworth. With the exception of three efforts to establish mission Sunday schools, very little was ever done to organize other churches. Two of these soon failed. The one organized October, 1879, in the building known as the "old academy," on the block bounded by Jefferson, East Park, Columbia and Seventh streets, had a somewhat varying strength and in the fall of 1881 had almost fallen to pieces. So unsatisfactory were the prospects, that when it became necessary to seek other quarters, a majority of the officers and teachers were in favor of closing the school. It was, however, voted to move into the Advent chapel, corner Eleventh and Main streets, and to make one more effort to build up a school. The superintendent having resigned on the morning the school was to have opened in its new quarters, the management fell upon the present officers.

Active steps were immediately taken to infuse new vigor and life into the school. Many radical changes were made with the effect of producing a new and healthy growth, so that there were but two Sundays when there were not more present than on the preceding Sabbath. By Jan. 1, 1882, the school had a fine library and an attendance of over 100, and when the church was organized of over 120.

All this accomplished by the faithful work of as fine a corps of teachers as ever were gathered together, and to them is due the success of this effort. Along in January, 1882, the school undertook to maintain a prayer-meeting one evening in a week. The first was conducted by Horace D. Ramsdell, chorister of the school, and these meetings have never been allowed to flag or fail. About this time the chapel was purchased. On the 24th of June, 1881, at the request of the Hon. W. S. Ladd, a number of young men of the First Presbyterian Church met at the banking house of Messrs. Ladd & Tilton, and there was then and there organized two boards of trustees; one, the Calvary Presbyterian Church and society, the other St. John's Presbyterian Church and society, and these boards were duly incorporated under the laws of the state of Oregon.

To the former, Mr. Ladd donated a piece of ground 200 feet on Ninth, 75 feet on Columbia and 75 feet on Clay streets, being the west 75 feet of block 244. To the latter, Mrs. John H. Couch deeded lots 1, and 4, in block 162 of Couch's addition to the city of Portland, being on the corner of H and North Sixteenth streets. The Calvary board immediately had plans drawn for a church, and raised nearly six thousand dollars, and here it stopped.

About the 1st of February, 1882, the question of organizing another church received fresh impetus from various sources, such as the progress of the Sunday-school and prayer-meeting, the purchase of the chapel, together with a very general public demand, caused by the rapid growth of the city.

That this might be conducted properly and with due regard to all interested, the Rev. Thomas Frazer, synodical missionary of California, and the Rev. R. W. Hill, synodical missionary of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, were invited to the city. After numerous conversations between all the interested parties it was decided to organize a second church, immediately. The Rev. Thomas Frazer, representing these interests, met the session of the First Church February 13, 1882. He was cordially received and the session passed the necessary resolutions and prepared the proper petition. The effort having received the hearty approval of the session the after labor was very much lightened. The petition received from the First church was taken in charge of by a self-appointed committee of three, consisting of Wm. R. Honeyman, Horace D. Ramsdell and Curtis C. Strong. It was circulated from Feb. 14th to the 18th, inclusive, and when fifty names were obtained it was respectfully sent to the session of the First church, who promptly granted a joint letter of dismission, dated Feb. 19, 1882. As soon as this letter was received by the committee the following invitation was sent to each person named in that letter of dismission:

"You are earnestly requested to be present and assist in organizing the —— Presbyterian church, at their chapel, corner Eleventh and Main streets, on Sunday, Feb. 19, 1882."

SERVICES.

Organization at 3 P. M. (Acts 16-5.) Ordination of elders, 7:30 P. M. (Acts 14-23).

At 3 o'clock the chapel was filled and there were present all but three of the petitioners, to wit: Mrs. Eliza Ainsworth, who was confined to her bed, Mrs. O. A. Bird, who was in California, and Mr. J. Le Grand, who failed to receive the notice, owing to the shortness of time. At three o'clock the church was organized by the Rev. A. L. Lindsley, D. D., pastor of the First Church, assisted by the Rev. R. W. Hill, synodical missionary of Oregon. After a short but impressive service, the petition was read, together with the action of the First Church session. It was then voted to fill the blank by inserting the word "Calvary," making it to read "Calvary Presbyterian Church," and a committee appointed to nominate officers.

The committee presented a report that the officers of this church shall consist of six elders, who shall be elected to serve for the term of six years, but the present terms shall be so arranged that two shall retire at the end of two years, two at four, and two at six. That at the end of each of these terms two elders shall be elected by the church for the full term of six years. Second, a treasurer, who shall serve for two years.

Third—For elders, we do nominate G. J. Ainsworth, H. C. Coleman, John Honeyman, Wesley Jackson, Wm. Wadhams and Curtis C. Strong. For treasurer, Henry J. Corbett. And do recommend for trustees Charles E. Ladd, Horace D. Ramsdell and Curtis C. Strong, to fill the places made vacant by the resignation of Wm. S. Ladd, J. B. Wyatt and F. R. Strong.

The report was received and the several nominations and suggestions adopted.

In formally announcing the organization of Calvary Presbyterian church and society according to Presbyterian law and usage, Dr. Lindsley heartily welcomed the church to the fellowship of the presbytery of Oregon and the synod of the Columbia.

Rev. R. W. Hill, in a few well chosen words, received with gladness this new birth to the sisterhood of churches.

Singing and praying followed, when it was announced that the church would meet at 7½ o'clock in the evening for the purpose of ordaining its elders. Closed with the benediction.

Calvary Presbyterian church met at 7½ o'clock, the chapel being full, Rev. R. W. Hill in the pulpit. After the regular services and an appropriate sermon the elders were ordained by prayer and the laying on of hands. At the close of service the elders met and elected Curtis C. Strong clerk.

The following arrangement of terms was arranged by lot: G. J. Ainsworth and H. C. Coleman for two years, John Honeyman and Wesley Jackson for four years, Wm. Wadhams and Curtis C. Strong for six years.

On the sixth of April, elders and trustees were authorized, by a unanimous vote of the church, to extend a call to the Rev. Edward Trumbull Lee, of New York city, to become the stated supply of this church for one year from July 1st, 1882.

The call was duly accepted, and he arrived here on the 13th of July. The same evening he conducted the prayer meeting, and on the following Sunday preached his first sermon, since which time Mr. Lee has faithfully served the church in a manner entirely acceptable to the church.

From the time the church was organized until Mr. Lee arrived the pulpit was supplied with but one or two exceptions.

The growth of the church has been most satisfactory; thirty-two have united, fourteen of these on profession, making eighty-two upon the roll.

We are eighty-two, yet one is not; for on the 7th of April, 1882, Mrs. Ella McKean, the wife of Wm. C. McKean, went to join the church on high. We miss her on many occasions, and especially at this time, but are comforted in knowing that she is with the Head of the church—the Church Itself.

The records of the board of trustees are equally satisfactory. They have secured the aid of a competent architect in W. H. Williams, Esq., who has drawn plans for a church, which when completed by F. W. Servis, a builder in whom the board place the utmost confidence not only as a master builder, but as an honest man, we hope and expect will be an ornament to this city.

As if to add to a cup now running over with blessings, the board and its friends confidently look forward to completing this church without a debt.

THE JACKSONVILLE AFFRAY.

Young Hanna Shot by Colwell and then Cut in the Throat by a Stranger.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 12.—A shooting and cutting scrape occurred here on Sunday night about eleven o'clock between Wm. Colwell and Charles Hanna in which the latter was shot in the head and afterwards had his throat cut. Another row had taken place early in the evening between Colwell and Tom Curly and remarks favorable to Curly by Hanna was the cause of the second trouble. Hanna was shot just below the left eye, the ball ranging downward and is lodged in the back part of the head. The most cowardly part of the affray was when another man named Chas. Dodson, a stranger here, rushed in and cut Hanna's throat after he was shot and had fallen to the ground. Although seriously wounded Hanna's chances of recovery are better now than at first supposed. Both of the assailants are in jail.

MILLINERY—NEW OPENING.

The first to occupy the new stores in Ainsworth block, Third street, is the new firm of Hildebrand & Anderson, who have received a portion of their millinery goods, and another invoice is due on Friday. While Mrs. Hildebrand is thoroughly posted, the same may well be said of her partner, Miss Anderson, who is well known in Portland. She has been with Cran for a long time. We bespeak for these ladies a liberal patronage. The opening days are Monday and Tuesday next, when a genuine treat is in store for the fair sex.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.—Best in all essential points; prices very low; cash, installments or to rent with privilege to purchase; satisfaction given. Before purchasing elsewhere call on or address Minderhout & Co., at W. T. Shanahan's music and art gallery, Morrison street, near Second.

Taking the baby is an interesting event with young mothers. At Towne's gallery lately there has been an unusual rush of little ones and likewise of older people who sat and were duly pleased with the pictures. Take the little ones to-day.

THE AURORA RESTAURANT, on the fair grounds, will be conducted this season by Mr. Stephen Smith and Captain Will of Aurora. Both gentlemen are well known throughout the state and to fair visitors.

Garrison's Sewing Machine Store, 167 Third street, Portland. Jon B. Garrison, proprietor. Sewing Machines repaired on short notice and warranted. Needles, Oil, etc.

CLEVER ESCAPE.

A Prisoner in the County Jail Hides in a Stove during the Day and Escapes at Night.

Dan McMillan escaped from the county jail last night about six o'clock. It was locking-up time and Jailor Doherty rattled the corridor doors as the usual signal to the men to retire into their cells. Shortly after, he unlocked the door of corridor No. 2, on the north side of the jail near the kitchen, and went in to lock the cells. The corridor was empty, all the cell doors were closed and the bars pushed out ready for the locks, according to the orders given the prisoners. After locking the cells, during which he spoke to several of the men, asking if they had everything they wanted for the night, he came out of the corridor leaving that door open. Among the names he called, asking if they were all right, was that of McMillan, and some one answered from within the latter's cell. The jailer had just gone into corridor No. 1, when he was startled by a shout from the kitchen. Running there, the cook informed him that McMillan had just gone out of the kitchen door and ran down the street. Jailer Doherty at once started in pursuit, but could see no signs of the fugitive in any direction. Continuing downtown he notified the police of the escape, and returned to the jail. Up to this time he was ignorant of the manner in which McMillan had made his escape, but thought it possible he might have stood behind the corridor door when it was opened, it being dark inside the jail at that hour.

The escape, however, was more cunningly planned than standing up in a dark corner behind a door of bars, in hope to elude the jailer's eye. This latter plan would hardly have been possible to succeed and McMillan was too shrewd to attempt it. In the corridor was a large box wood-stove, which during the summer has been used as a receptacle for dirt, rags and old papers. All this refuse had been carefully cleared out and dumped into the water closet, making the inside of the stove by no means an uncomfortable place for a man to lie curled up for a few hours.

When Jailor Doherty returned, the prisoners greeted him through the bars with jeering remarks about the escape, and with an air of triumph, told the whole story. McMillan had stripped to his shirt and pantaloons and crawled into the stove just before locking up time. When Doherty left the corridor, McMillan came out of the stove, his vest, coat and hat were handed to him through the bars by his fellow prisoners, and thus equipped like a gentleman, he was ready to leave the jail. Passing out of the corridor and through the kitchen, he had gained the open air before he was noticed by the cook. When discovered he took to his heels. It is suspected he had outside help in the shape of a hack.

This plan of escape had been talked of for several days by the prisoners and nearly every one in the jail was cognizant of the matter. Within an hour after McMillan had gone his brother came to the jail, ostensibly to see him, although he well knew it was too late, according to the rules of the jail. His every action was excited and nervous and it was evident he had come for the express purpose of finding out, if possible, what steps were being taken for his brother's re-capture. The following conversation took place:

"How's Dan?"

"Dan is all right."

"How does he take it?"

"Well, he takes it pretty freely."

"How does he feel?"

"Oh, he feels pretty good, to-night."

"I didn't think it was so late; I don't suppose I can see him to-night?"

"No, you can't see him to-night."

"Well, good-night, I'll be up to-morrow."

"Good-night."

McMillan is a very bad citizen, and the police have known it for years. There is no doubt that he was concerned in several robberies here, but the officers could never get sufficient evidence to convict him until August 10, when he and Chas. Dixon robbed an old man in the Belvedere saloon. For this crime he had been indicted, and was imprisoned awaiting trial. He is a desperate man, has several companions here, and will not be easily recaptured.

W. SCHEFFLER'S PURE WINES AND BRANDY.

It is universally conceded that Wm. Scheffler's, St. Helena, Cal., good old Port, Sherry, Amber, White Ressling, Hock, Muscat, Angelica and Claret Wines, as also his Sanitary vacuum distilled pure Grape Brandy, are really superior to other manufactures, not excepting that imported, the adulterations and impurities of which is now generally understood. Mr. Scheffler's goods are popularly known all over the Pacific coast. Eight-tenths of all the druggists in California, Oregon and Washington territory have adopted his goods, discarding the imported. Ask your druggist here in Portland, East Portland, or in any town in this northwest, and you will be quite sure to obtain it, as you will at most of the first-class hotels and bars. Mr. Scheffler's Wines and Sanitary Brandy have been steadily growing into favor until they are known well in almost every household as a medicine, if not otherwise. Mr. Scheffler's process of distilling in a vacuum is his own patent process, which relieves his brandy of the fusil oil, making it really pure, sanitary and healthful.

Mr. Geo. H. Bech, Mr. Scheffler's representative, is now up visiting his customers.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

Cardinal Howard has arrived in England from Rome, and will remain for a visit of some weeks. Cardinal Howard is now archpriest of St. Peter's Basilica in the Eternal City, and when he leaves England it will be to resume the duties of that office.

Near the end of last month snow appeared in the English channel off the coast of Kent. A steamer on her way from Hamburg to Havre passed into and through a veritable snowstorm there about ten o'clock in the morning. It remained ten minutes in the storm. The ship was twenty miles out to sea.

Some weeks ago the Society of Garibaldians at Leghorn announced their intention of visiting Caprera. The story soon got afloat that they meditated the violation of his tomb in order forcibly to carry out his last wish in the matter of cremation. This report was subsequently denied by the society, with the additional statement that their intended visit was merely one of affection and reverence. In spite of the denial, however, the government have thought it wise to send a company of Bersaglieri to Caprera, and to double the guard of honor at the tomb as a precaution against unseemly demonstrations.

According to the official estimates for 1881, just published, the population of Scotland is 3,744,465—far less probably than most people believe—of whom 1,802,981 are males and 1,941,784 females. About 32 per cent. of the 3,744,000 live in the eight principal towns. Of the total number of births, which was 126,214, 8.29 per cent., or 10,466, were last year illegitimate. For various districts the rate of illegitimacy was as follows: In the insular rural group of districts 6.2 per cent.; in the large towns, 6.4 per cent.; in the small towns, 7.7 per cent.; in the principal towns, 8.1 per cent., and in the mainland-rural districts, 10.2 per cent.

Certain women in England have found a use for Cyprus, and, as the London World remarks, it promises to be for a time "something more than a depot and sanitarium;" it is likely to be the temporary home of a number of ladies whose husbands are engaged at the seat of war in Egypt. Several have already left England and many others will follow them. It is pointed out, however, that disappointment will meet them if they "expect to see their husbands on a sort of Saturday to Monday trip during the interval of campaigning; while, although geographically nearer, Cyprus will be farther off than England as regards telegraphic communication."

The good advice so often given to Mr. R. H. Shepherd in regard to his bibliographical researches in fields where his presence was not welcome never did much good. He publishes and publishes all the same, and still with his accustomed fearlessness and calmness. It perhaps ought not, therefore, to surprise those whom it undoubtedly will surprise to hear that he has in preparation a life of Thackeray. Thackeray, as every one familiar with him knows, desired that no life of him should be written and nothing that could properly be called a life has been written. But this does not dismay Mr. Shepherd. He will write his life and will add to it some Thackeray letters that he has been able to procure, and a certain mass of uncollected writings in prose and verse.

At Cetewayo's recent visit to Queen Victoria at Osborne there were present the Princess Beatrice, the Duchess of Albany and the Duchess of Connaught. Her Majesty wore the orders of St. Michael and St. George and the star of India. The king was dressed with great care in a suit of black, with a silk hat. When shown into the presence of the queen he stepped in advance of his chiefs and, "bowing profoundly," it is recorded, "raised his right hand above his head, repeating twice in the Zulu tongue the words 'Au, the queen.'" What was further said at the interview does not appear, but after it was ended he was shown over the house and through the garden. Luncheon was served to him and his companions at 1:30, they being joined by the Earl of Kimberley, Sir H. Ponsonby, and the ladies in waiting.

"What's that you're playing?" said a New Haven man to his daughter, who was pounding at the piano keyboard with more noise than skill. "It is Wagnerian, pa; that's the music of the future." "Oh, it is, is it? Let it be a long time in the future before I hear any more of it. Play me 'Comin' Through the Rye.'" "O pa, ain't you horrid; always thinking about something to drink." Honors are easy in that family.—New Haven Register.

The contract for keeping the Jackson county poor has been awarded to Madame Holt for one year, at $4 50 per week for every patient. The madame was the only bidder. The county has nothing to furnish whatever.

Nurse & Loosely's new stern-wheel steamer was launched on Klamath lake a few days ago. Her dimensions are 20x83, and she will draw 28 inches of water when loaded. The machinery from the Gen. Howard will be utilized and the boat will probably be able to go up Wood river to within a short distance of Fort Klamath.

R. Breckenridge, of Roseburg, has been seriously ill, his illness caused by opening the vault of the late L. L. Williams. He was in such a position that the gases from the coffin struck him in the face. Shortly after he was taken with a fever that for a time baffled the skill of attending physicians, but he is now likely to recover.

Frank and Elmer Gazley, on the Gazley farm in Canyonville precinct, with five horses and two walking plows, have raised this season 2780 bushels of wheat and 1008 bushels of oats, making a total of 3788 bushels of grain, besides cutting all the oat hay needed for the use of the farm. This has been accomplished exclusively by their own labor, except in heading and threshing.

On Friday, the 15th inst., the annual reunion of Southern Oregon pioneers will take place in Jacksonville. The arrangements are being rapidly perfected and nothing will be left undone to make the reunion a success. The dinner will be a prominent feature, besides which there will be excellent literary exercises, of which the following is the programme:

The procession will be formed at the city hall at half-past nine o'clock A. M., under the direction of Wm. Kahler, Esq., marshal of the day, and march to the courthouse yard, where the following exercises will be had: Music by the band; song by the glee club; prayer by Rev. R. J. Sharp; pioneer song written by Mrs. J. M. McCully; oration by Judge E. B. Watson; instrumental music by Miss Carrie C. Beekman; resolutions on deceased members; dirge by the band; song by the glee club; intermission for dinner; music by the band; voluntary addresses; instrumental music by Misses Kelley and Christie; tribute to the memory of General Joseph Lane by a member.

In the evening, the camp fire will be kindled near the court house, where there will be a grand social reunion of members and friends.

OREGON LEGISLATURE.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

Senate.

SALEM, Sept. 12.

The senate met pursuant to adjournment, and was called to order by the president. All senators present.

The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Hendricks moved that the clergy of Salem be invited to open the senate with prayer each morning during the session; adopted.

Sifers moved that senators retain the seats now occupied by them respectively; carried.

A message from the house announced the concurrence of that body in senate concurrent resolution No. 1, providing for a joint committee to wait upon the governor and inform him that the two houses are organized, and ready to hear any communication he may have to make.

The president appointed on the committee Colvig and Hilyeu, who, after a brief absence, returned and reported that Gov. Thayer would be ready to meet the two houses in joint convention at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Haines offered a resolution requesting the house to appoint an hour for counting the votes for governor. Adopted.

A communication from S. A. Clark, proposing to furnish each senator a copy of the Willamette Farmer free of charge, was received and read.

On motion of Lee, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Clark for the proposed favor. Lee and Gates were appointed on the joint committee on joint rules.

Colvig moved that the sergeant-at-arms furnish each senator with two copies of such newspapers as he may select.

Myers opposed the motion. He knew no law for such an expenditure.

Colvig said it had been customary in the past to supply papers for members, and he regarded it as necessary and proper.

Davenport was in favor of economy, but he regarded this as a necessary and proper appropriation.

Pennington moved to strike out two and insert four, and that the OREGONIAN be one of the number.

Colvig, Siglin and Haines opposed the amendment because they wished to have the privilege of making their own selections.

Haines did not object to taking four papers, but while THE OREGONIAN is probably the best in the state, he wanted each senator to select for himself.

The amendment was voted upon and lost.

Sifers moved to amend by striking out two and inserting four; carried, and the original resolution was adopted as amended.

Wright offered a resolution providing that each senator be furnished with at least $5 worth of postage stamps.

Starkweather moved to strike out five and insert three; lost.

Myers opposed the expenditure of the public money for postage stamps. He could buy his own stamps.

Wright considered that it was a duty of senators to keep their constituents advised of their proceedings, and that the money proposed to be expended was for the benefit of the people.

Simon moved to amend by striking out the words "at least," which motion prevailed.

The question recurring upon the adoption of the original resolution as amended, the same was adopted.

The senate adjourned until 2 o'clock P. M.

Afternoon.

The senate met pursuant to adjournment.

House concurrent resolution fixing 3 o'clock as the hour for canvassing the vote for governor was adopted.

Dorris gave notice of a bill to amend section 36 of title 2 of chapter 7 of general laws; also a bill to authorize the superintendent of the penitentiary to contract for the employment of convicts.

Colvig gave notice of a bill to regulate the construction of flumes on mining claims.

Hendricks gave notice of a bill to change times of meeting of the legislative assembly.

Waters gave notice of a bill for the relief of S. R. Scott.

Simon gave notice of a bill to provide for a paid fire department in the city of Portland.

Humphrey gave notice of a bill to amend the law in relation to the appropriation of private property by corporations.

Clow gave notice of a bill to regulate interchange of traffic on railroads.

Hendricks gave notice of a bill to provide for a registry law.

Waters gave notice of a bill to provide for the compilation and publication of the laws.

Hoult gave notice of a bill to regulate the transportation of passengers and freight by railroad corporations.

Siglin gave notice of a bill to exempt homesteads from taxation; also of a bill to regulate the sale of opium.

Davenport gave notice of a bill to amend the assessment law.

Hilyeu gave notice of a bill to provide for the appointment of railroad commissioners and to define their duties.

Waldo gave notice of a bill to provide for a constitutional convention.

Myers gave notice of a bill for an act in relation to roads and highways.

Clow gave notice of a bill to regulate the assessment and collection of taxes.

Jessup gave notice for a bill for the construction of unfinished or abandoned railroads.

Humphrey gave notice of a bill to authorize the governor to grant pardons in certain cases and declare the effect of the same.

Colvig gave notice of a bill to amend the miscellaneous laws relative to licensing shows and exhibitions.

Sifers gave notice that he would on to-morrow, or some subsequent day, introduce one, two or several bills.

The hour of 3 o'clock having arrived, the senate repaired in a body to the hall of the house of representatives to be present at the canvassing of the vote for governor.

After returning, the senate, on motion of Haines, adjourned until 9:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.

House.

The house was called to order at 10 o'clock. Speaker McBride in the chair.

The roll was called and a quorum present. The journal of yesterday was read and a correction was made in the record of the vote for assistant clerk, and the journal approved as amended.

The following resolution was introduced:

Concurrent resolution by Plummer, providing that the senate meet the house in joint convention in the house chamber at the hour of 11:30 A. M. for the purpose of canvassing vote for governor; adopted.

Speaker appointed as committee to wait on the governor and inform him that the house was ready for the reception of any message, Plummer, Stanley and Webb.

The following message was received from the senate:

Mr. Speaker—I am requested to inform your honorable body that the senate has just passed concurrent resolution No. 1, providing for the appointment of a committee of two from the senate and three from the house to inform his excellency the governor that both houses are now regularly organized and ready for the transaction of business.

AUSTIN MIRES, Clerk.

A message was received from the senate informing the house of the organization of that body.

A report from the joint committee appointed to wait on the governor and inform him that the senate and house were organized and ready for the transaction of business was received; the report set forth that the governor would meet both houses in joint session to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The house then took a recess until 11:30 o'clock, the hour appointed for the joint convention to canvass the vote for governor.

CANVASSING THE VOTE.

On the house reassembling a message was received from the senate informing the house that that body was ready to proceed with the canvass.

It was here announced by the speaker that a notice of contest for the office of governor had been filed by S. W. McDowell, of Marion; that the lawyers had as yet been unable to find the law bearing on the point and prescribing the mode of procedure in this emergency.

On motion the resolution fixing the hour for the canvass at 11:30 was reconsidered and the hour fixed at 3 P. M.

The house adjourned until 2 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

At 2 P. M. house reassembled.

A message was received from the senate setting forth that senate concurred in concurrent resolution providing for appointment of joint committee to examine the status of the East Portland insane asylum and treatment of patients; also to examine the new asylum building at Salem.

Speaker announced he had received a communication from one Samuel McDowell, M. D., contesting the election of Z. F. Moody to the office of governor. The communication was ordered read by clerk. It proved to be an extremely original and rambling document, claiming that Z. F. Moody had not been elected governor, and that the contestant (McDowell) had.

Gault introduced a resolution throwing out the contest, which was adopted.

On motion the resolution postponed from yesterday relative to the members' seats was taken from the table and was, after considerable discussion, again postponed until to-morrow.

A message was received from senate stating that concurrent resolution on joint rules had been adopted and committee appointed. Speaker then appointed as such committee from the house Ford, of Marion, and Whitney, of Linn. Ford declined, and Morres, of Coos, was appointed.

A message was received from the senate stating that that body had concurred in the joint resolution providing for a joint convention at 3 o'clock.

On motion the rules of the legislative assembly of 1880 were adopted as the rules of the present session.

On motion of Tanner, the sergeant-at-arms was instructed to furnish each member of the house with four daily or weekly newspapers.

The hour of 3 o'clock having arrived, on motion the sergeant-at-arms was directed to notify the senate that the house was prepared to hold a joint session.

Senators here entered the chamber in a body, President McConnell taking a seat beside of Speaker McBride.

The secretary of the senate then called the roll of senators, and clerk of the house called the roll of representatives.

The president of the senate then stated that they assembled in joint session, according to the constitution of Oregon, to canvass the returns for governor.

The speaker of the house then proceeded to open the sealed returns, as follows:

	Moody.	Smith.

Speaker then announced that Moody received 21,481 votes and Smith 20,029 votes.

On motion joint convention was then dissolved immediately after adjourning of joint convention house was called to order.

On motion a concurrent resolution providing for a committee of three from the house and two from the senate to inform Governor Moody of his election was adopted.

On motion of Tanner it was resolved that daily sessions of the house be from 10 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 P. M. to 5 P. M.

Tanner introduced a joint resolution providing for a committee of five from house and three from senate to consider the advisability of redistricting the judiciary districts of the state and increasing salaries of the judges. Said committee to consist of one member from each judicial district.

Rice moved as an amendment that all that portion referring to the increase of judges' salaries and appointment of committee from judicial districts be stricken out.

The motion was laid over till to-morrow.

Kelly introduced house concurrent resolution No. 5, providing for meeting of both houses in joint convention at 10 A. M. to-morrow to receive the message of Governor Thayer and the inaugural of Governor Moody.

The resolution was adopted and house adjourned.

General Crop Reports.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The agricultural department reports that cotton has improved since August 10th. Condition then, 87; on September 1st, 91; a very high average. There has been too much rain, however, and eventually this may work disaster to the bolls. The corn crop in all regions south of Pennsylvania and the Ohio river is in high condition, in every state except West Virginia represented by 100 or higher figures. In many districts of the south the crop is reported the best in twenty years. In the New England states there has been a very sharp decline and a decline of 8 points in New York and New Jersey and 4 in Pennsylvania. The loss in all these states is due to drouth. In the corn growing states of the Ohio valley prospects average very nearly as last reported. The general average of condition is 84, the same as in August. Last year there was a decline from 77 in August to 60 in September. In 1880 the September average was 91. If early frosts do not injure the crop the product will be materially larger than last year, but the heavy production of 1879 and 1880 cannot be approached under the most favorable circumstances. The oat crop when harvested was in unusually high condition, yielding heavily in threshing. General average 100, very few states falling below that figure. Among them are New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia. The rye crop is also above average in nearly all the states and harvested in good condition. The general average of tobacco is 85; in Pennsylvania 86, in Maryland 92, in Virginia 98, in Kentucky 91, in Ohio 65, in Missouri, 93.

Eastern Freight Situation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—In noting discriminations against California merchants by railroads it would seem that in some instances they are not so harsh as they appear. The supposition is that contracts compel merchants to forward all their freight by rail or by steamer, as railroad officials may elect. But it appears that in some cases they allow shippers to forward certain classes by clipper. It is at this point that those who ship exclusively by clipper agents, by taking freight of contractors who cannot give but a limited amount at the same rate, and sometimes even less than asked shippers who give all their freight to shippers, and these latter think, and with some justice, that clipper agents ought to demand from such shippers an advanced rate, or one equal to that imposed upon shippers by the railroad tariff, and that if any favors are to be shown, they should be shown to those who have stood by the clippers, and who still refuse to make contracts with railroads, although continually importuned to do so. Another instance of the unfairness of clipper agents to those who stand by them is that they favor certain shippers who have railroad contracts by taking their freight at low rates. Regular shippers who believe in sustaining clippers lines to the very end, think that all such shippers should be compelled to pay higher rates, or else stand by the route they have selected for transportation of their goods.

The freight market remains quiet. The Eureka has finished loading her cargo, comprising in part 10,000 cases oil, 2000 bbls rosin, 1000 bbls cement, 300 bbls whisky, 600 bales hemp, 200 coils rope, 300 tons coal, 200 tons muck iron, and 500 tons railroad iron. Freights via isthmus are still quiet. Yesterday's steamer had for San Francisco 250 bbls rosin, 700 kegs nails, 363 boxes tin, 475 bars steel rails and 382 bales sheeting for China.

Kansas Crops.

TOPEKA, Ks., Sept. 12.—The state board of agriculture's new computation of the oats and spring wheat yield, shows oats average yield is estimated at 35 bushels per acre and acreage over half a million, an increase of 54 per cent. Total product 18,300,000 bushels. The greatest previous crop was in 1879, when with 20 per cent. larger acreage the yield was only 13,000,000. Only 137,000 acres were sown of spring wheat, estimated to yield 15 bushels per acre. The acreage of this grain declined heavily, it being comparatively an unprofitable crop. The estimate of the corn crop remains at 156,000,000 bushels. No unfavorable reports are received and the yield will be about 35 bushels an acre.

Cold Truth to Its Own Countrymen.

It is a melancholy spectacle that is afforded by the doings of our countrymen in the Pacific. Whole archipelagoes are being ruined in order that the British trader may make a profit. We forbid the sale of fire-water to the redskins of Canada, but we poison the savages of the Pacific with "square gin" and call it civilization. It is one of the most extraordinary features of our age that a nation professing to believe that the love of money is the root of all evil, should constantly act upon the assumption that in our dealings with the weaker races the love of money is an infinitely more respectable motive than lust of conquest or sectarian zeal. The extension of the civilizing influences of commerce sounds well, but when the chief articles of commerce are gin and rifles, the gain is not obvious. Murder may be made easier and debauchery more deadly, but excepting so far as it ministers to the extirpation of savage races, such a trade can hardly be regarded as a handmaid of civilization. It is bad enough that we should rear and send forth these emissaries of a deadly commerce. It is worse that our gunboats should be sent to protect these traders and to punish the natives who occasionally avenge the wrongs of their race by the massacre of the intruding stranger. It is a knotty problem how to restrain the pestilent activity of the beachcomber and the kidnapper who prey upon the unfortunate Polynesians. No one can read the account of some of their exploits without lamenting that the number of cases in which they have fallen beneath the clubs of their victims have been so few, or without feeling that more justice would be done if our gunboats were to shell the craft of these adventurers, rather than the villages of those who have avenged their wrongs on the first white man who lands on their shores. If we are to have shells, let them be dispatched to the right address. Whenever any "massacre" occurs, the presumption should be that the intruders, and not the natives, stand most in need of punishment. The natives, at least, are in their own land. They would not molest a single British subject if he let them alone. If he refuses to do so, he must take the consequences, without looking to us to punish those who have resented his trespass.—Pall Mall Gazette.

To the traveler through Texas one of the strangest and most peculiar features of landscape is the razor-back hog. He is of Swiss cottage style of architecture. His physical structure is angular to a degree unknown outside of a text book on the science of geometry. The country razor-back prowls around in the woods and lives on acorns, pecan nuts and roots; when he can spare time he climbs under his owner's fence and assists in harvesting the corn crop. In this regard he is neighborly to a fault, and when his duty to his owner's crop will allow he will readily turn in and assist the neighbors, even working at night rather than see his crop spoil for want of attention. Crossing the razor-back with blue-blooded stock makes but little improvement. The only effective way to improve him is to cross him with a railroad train. He then becomes an imported Berkshire or Poland-China hog, and if he does not knock the train off the track the railroad company pays for him at the rate of $1 a pound, for which they are allowed the mournful privilege of shoveling the remains off the track. The ham of the country razor-back is more juicy than the hind leg of an iron fire-dog, but not quite so fat as a pine knot.

Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit these diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.
